

I'm unable to connect to my router with my WiFi USB Transmitter key. The installation doesn't detect any Internet connection. What can I do?

Your WiFi USB Transmitter key is not a standard WiFi USB key (commonly referred to as a "WiFi Client")!

It does not allow you to connect to an existing WiFi network as other WiFi USB keys do, but rather lets you "create" your own WiFi network directly from a PC connected to the Internet in order to share your Internet connection while the connected PC is switched on.

This represents a unique concept which eliminates the need for a WiFi router, which are often difficult to set up.

If you wish to equip your PC with a WiFi adapter in order to connect to an existing WiFi network, pick up the Hercules Wireless G USB2 Key – HWGUSB2-54 or the Hercules WiFi USB Key for Livebox – HWGUSB2-54LB for Livebox® users, both of which have been acknowledged by the trade press and a large number of users as the easiest to install!
